Fund Description

AWTM is an actively managed portfolio of investment grade bonds of ultra-short durations.

FactSet Analyst Report

The fund is closing. The last day of trading is on July 15, 2022. AWTM is an actively managed, ultra-short-term, investment grade bond fund focused on providing yield. The fund seeks capital preservation and current income while maintaining low interest-rate risk. The product does not aim to be a money market fund and does not seek to maintain a stable NAV. Holdings may include a variety of USD-denominated, investment-grade debt from both government and corporate issuers. Essentially, the fund can invest in anything the fund adviser deems appropriate, with no limitation to the techniques and instruments used to achieve the funds objective. Prior to June 06, 2022, the fund traded under the name National Investment Services Ultra-Short Duration Enhanced Income ETF.
