Invesco Bloomberg MVP Multi-factor ETF

Fund Description

BMVP tracks an equally-weighted index of US large-cap securities, selected by their fundamental and technical characteristics.

FactSet Analyst Report

BMVP tracks an index of US large-cap stocks from the largest 500 companies by free-float market capitalization. From this universe, each security is given an MVP score and the 50 stocks with the strongest momentum, most muted volatility, most inexpensive valuations, and highest profitability are selected for inclusion. The components within the fund are equally weighted. Rebalancing is done quarterly, starting in January. Prior to August 28, 2023, the fund was named Invesco Dynamic Market ETF, with ticker PWC, and tracked the Dynamic Market Intellidex Index.
