FactSet Analyst Report

FFTI is an actively managed fund that holds index-tracking ETFs that target five major fixed income asset classes: US Treasuries, investment-grade US bonds, high-yield US bonds, US aggregate bonds, and international government bonds. The model selects up to three asset classes with the strongest combined yield spreads and positive momentum characteristics. FFTI also has the flexibility to hold short-term Treasury securities when none of the asset classes exhibit positive momentum. The fund has no constraints or targets on maturity or credit rating.
