FactSet Analyst Report

GEOA tracks an index of companies from around the world that are expected to benefit from geopolitical shifts. Companies meeting market-cap and liquidity requirements are selected based on four trends: 1) Geopolitical Events (25-50% allocation), including companies benefiting from supply chain changes, tax policies, defense spending, alliances, or trade and tariff policies, 2) Fiscal and Monetary Policy Shifts (5-25%), for companies positioned to gain from interest rate changes, fiscal spending, or currency interventions, 3) Technological Innovation (5-25%), for firms delivering new or transformative tech-enabled products or services, and 4) Shifting Consumer Preferences (5-15%), for those benefiting from changing global consumer habits. The portfolio is weighted by market cap, liquidity, and relevance to these trends, capped at 5% per constituent. The index is rebalanced and reconstituted quarterly.
