iBET Sports Betting and Gaming ETF

Fund Description

IBET is an actively managed fund that invests in global companies engaged in sports betting and gaming activities, including esports and iGaming.

FactSet Analyst Report

IBET is one of the few ETFs that offer global exposure to the sports betting and gaming industry. The fund consists of large-, mid-, small-cap companies classified under the Casinos & Gaming sub-industry, including iGaming and esports firms. Eligible companies must generate majority of their revenue from the sports betting and gaming industry or have primary business activities related to: i) operating casinos or racetracks, multiplayer video game competition platform, mobile sports betting platform, and online gaming communities, ii) owning real estate primarily used for gaming activities, and iii) developing educational tools for online gaming. Unlike BETZa passively managed fund with similar exposure, IBET actively selects its holdings based on the fund advisers internal research and proprietary fundamental analysis.
