

KHYB

KraneShares Asia Pacific High Income USD Bond ETF

Fund Description

KHYB is an actively managed fund that provides broad exposure to primarily high-yield bonds from the Asia-Pacific.

FactSet Analyst Report

KHYB actively invests in high-income-producing debt securities, primarily high yield and of any maturity, by governments and corporations from emerging and developed countries in Asia-Pacific. The sub-adviser uses top-down macro research and bottom-up credit research in its proprietary process that combines quantitative and qualitative factors to assess an issuers credit profile, along with an assessment of a securitys value and relative value compared to other similar securities. KHYB may invest in other investment companies, including ETFs, and derivatives. The fund could also engage in securities lending. Prior to Aug. 1, 2021, the fund was known as KraneShares CCBS China Corporate High Yield Bond USD ETF that tracked the Solactive USD China Corporate High Yield Bond Index and traded under the ticker KCCB. Before Nov. 28, 2021, the fund was named KraneShares Asia Pacific High Yield Bond ETF. As of August 1, 2024, the funds name was updated to include USD.

