

NBCC

Neuberger Berman Next Generation Connected Consumer ETF

Fund Description

NBCC actively selects global companies across multiple sectors, that are positioned to benefit from the growing economic power of the NextGen Consumers: Generations Y & Z.

FactSet Analyst Report

NBCC offers concentrated exposure to global NextGen Consumer companies, which the fund manager defines as companies that are well-positioned to benefit from the consumer trends and spending behavior of the digitally native generations, Y & Z. This includes companies that demonstrate significant growth potential from connectivity-based consumerism. The actively managed fund spans a broad range of industries globally and may invest in companies of any market capitalization. The selection universe is constructed using data analysis tools, such as machine learning and natural language processing. A fundamental, bottom-up analysis that evaluates each company's relative value, industry position, growth potential, financials, and management is then used to narrow down this initial universe. In addition, certain ESG factors are considered as part of the selection process, but investors should note that the fund does not pursue an impact investment strategy.

