FactSet Analyst Report

PYPY aims to generate monthly income while providing exposure to the price returns of Paypal stock (PYPL), subject to a cap on potential gains. The fund utilizes a synthetic covered call strategy via standardized exchange-traded and FLEX options, which consists of three elements: i) synthetic long exposure, ii) covered call writing, and iii) US Treasurys for collateral. The synthetic long exposure seeks to replicate the price movements of PYPL by purchasing and selling at-the-money calls and puts that have one- to six-month terms. To generate income, the fund writes call options with an expiration of one month or less and a strike price of approximately 0%-15% above PYPL's current share price. This limits participation in potential gains if PYPL shares increase in value. The short put positions fully expose investors to the downside of the stock. Note: the fund does not invest directly in PYPL stocks. Thus, investors are not entitled to any PYPL dividends.
