

RSPC

Invesco S&P 500 Equal Weight Communication Services ETF

Fund Description

RSPC tracks an equal-weighted index of US large-cap firms engaged in communication services, selected from the S&P 500 Index.

FactSet Analyst Report

RSPC offers equal-weighted exposure to S&P 500s communication services segment, as defined by GICS in September 2018. This includes all members of the former telecom sector, as well as ISPs and media & entertainment companies previously classified as consumer discretionary or tech firms. The fund aims to hold a concentrated portfolio of at least 22 companies. If fewer than 22 companies qualify for inclusion, the fund may be supplemented with the largest companies by market cap from the S&P MidCap 400 classified under the communication services sector until the target number of constituents is reached. The index rebalances on a quarterly basis. Prior to June 7, 2023, the fund traded under the ticker EWCO.

