

WUGI

AXS Esoterica NextG Economy ETF

Fund Description

WUGI is an actively-managed portfolio of global companies involved in the 5G-enabled digital economy.

FactSet Analyst Report

WUGI is the first actively-managed ETF that invests in the 5G-enabled digital economy. The fund has exposure to firms of any market cap from both developed and emerging countries. The 5G digital economy involves both producers of the 5G technologies and their end-users like e-commerce companies. These are the firms anticipated to benefit the most from the adoption of 5G technology. WUGI uses internal and external research to select companies from the following three groups: Infrastructure - focused in 5G communication infrastructure network including transmission, and radio access network, or cloud computing infrastructure, Edge Devices - focused on access of 5G networks by end users, such as cellular phone and baseband processor, and Services - involved in video streaming, cloud gaming, autonomous driving, AR/VR, IoT and remote surgery. The fund adviser selects stocks with the best risk-reward opportunities using a top-down and bottom-up approach.

